Russian Chemical Reviews

June 1986

Translated from Uspekhi Khimii, 55, 883 (1986)

Ivan Lyudvigovich Knunyants

Dear Ivan Lyudvigovich,

The Editorial Board and the Editors of the journal Uspekhi Khimii convey to you their sincere greetings on your birthday. Your contribution to the development of various branches of organic chemistry is difficult to overestimate. You have created a Soviet school of organofluorine chemists whose work has gained worldwide recognition. You have always put forward novel and simple solutions to the most difficult chemical problems. The results of your researches have served as the basis of many important industrial processes.

Your fruitful scientific-organisational, editorial, and teaching activities are widely known. Your students include tens of Doctors of Science and hundreds of Candidates of Science who are working successfully in chemical science and industry.

Your enthusiasm and your endeavour to recognise truth and your uncompromising fight for the latter have gained you the deep respect of the scientific community.

We wish you dear Ivan Lyudvigovich good health and further creative successes.

The Editorial Board and Editors of the journal Uspekhi Khimii